San Luis, Argentina

Straight highways fan out like spokes on a wheel from the Argentine city of San Luis. To the east of the city are croplands that resemble colorful confetti. Founded in 1784, San Luis lies at the tip of the Sierra de San Luis and is largely surrounded by tree-refilling forest plains.

Landsat 5 data acquired on 04/07/2007